

Our only promise... We deliver!

CAPABILITY STATEMENT

CAPITAL Construction Group, LLC (CCG) is a full service general contracting firm based in Washington, D.C. that serves the small to mid-size commercial building market of Metropolitan Washington. Founded by two native Washingtonians (Quiton Cooper & Reginald Herndon), our goal is to become recognized as the most efficient, reliable, comprehensive construction firm of the Nation's Capital while advancing opportunities in the local community.

Whether your project involves new construction, renovation, expansion or other capital improvements, you need more than just a builder. YOU NEED A PARTNER with the expertise, resources, management tools, and portfolio of services to lead your project through the entire process. CCG provides Pre-Construction, General Contracting, and/or Construction Management At-Risk / Advocacy services as a means of delivering successful projects across all market sectors including multi-family.

CCG has used these project delivery methods to develop and maintain a project portfolio that consists of over 70% repeat clients. Along the way, we have empowered our clients to make the best construction decisions possible. We are confident that you will appreciate our full-service approach, our advocacy for the client, as well as our commitment to make your project a success, too.

CCG is dedicated to creating a gratifying building experience for our clients and we look forward to creating a mutually rewarding partnership with your business.

Please contact us to discuss your upcoming project.
